Death baffles police

Romulus police are baffled as to the cause of death of a 20-year-old man Sunday afternoon.

According to police reports, the parents, sister and brother-in-law of Thomas Vaughn entered his house trailer for a visit with Vaughn, his 17-year-old wife and their two children, one an infant and the other three-weeks-old.

Witnesses told police that as they were let into the trailer by a female friend, cries for help could be heard coming from the couple's bedroom. Rushing in, the elder Vaughn allegedly saw his son beating his wife, and moved to intervene. Reportedly, the younger Vaughn then turned his wrath towards the parents, at which point his father secured him in a headlock and wrestled him to the floor while a family member called the police.

Police say the two men were still in that position when they arrived. Vaughn was unconscious and attempts to revive him were unsuccessful, both by police and later by an ambulance squad which took him to Ann Arbor Hospital, where he was pronounced dead at 4:19 p.m.

A possible murder or manslaughter charge in the incident never materialized, police said, because on Monday the medical examiner ruled that a murder did not occur and that the young man did not die by strangulation or neck injuries, as was first suspected.

"As a matter of fact," said Romulus detective David Early, "they aren't sure why he died. They'll be doing some tests in the next few days to determine cause of death."

Vaughn, at the time of his death, was free on bond, stemming from charges of armed robbery and rape in Dearborn Heights on Oct. 22 of this year.

A Christmas wish

Come rain, shine or snow, there'll be no stopping the community-minded Romulus Goodfellows who'll be out in force hawking the annual Goodfellows' newspaper Saturday, Dec. 8. Motorists are asked to drive carefully as many will be positioned at major intersections around the city. All money collected will go towards the Goodfellows "No Child Without a Christmas" fund. Contract talks at standstill

By STEVE O'LEARY
ANP Staff Writer

In June, Romulus voters passed a 7.5-mill tax increase marking the first time in years they had voted to accept such a hike.

Six months later, the teachers of the Romulus School District are still working without a contract, and they don't like it one bit, according to Christine Powers, president of the Romulus teachers union.

"The board refuses to bargain with us," said Powers, "all they've done is come up with one unacceptable figure and refuse to discuss it with us."

"They are offering a two percent raise retroactive for last year, a two percent hike for this past September and another come January."

According to Joel Carr, the school district's financial director, the "teachers are demanding an eight percent retroactive raise for last year and an eight percent hike for the current school year, plus cost of living increases."

"Technically, we're negotiating for last year and this year, but we'd like to get next year's contract taken care of, too, but they (teachers union) won't even talk about it."

According to Powers, some teachers are still in financial trouble due to a 22 percent pay cut that was forced upon them in November 1982 with no warning. An arbitrator later ruled that the school district must pay them back over a six-year period.

"It's been obvious that the board doesn't think very highly of teachers," Powers said. "To be truthful, we're working with an administration and board that are totally anti-teacher."

"Not to put them down, but it may be because of the board's general lack of education and credentials ... there may even be some jealousy there, a feeling of 'Oh, a diploma and a degree, that's no big thing'."

There are no meetings set up in the near future for negotiations.

Special meeting Dec. 13

The Romulus City Council has approved the Tax Increment Finance Authority (TIFA) By-Laws, and has scheduled a special meeting for 6 p.m. on Thursday, Dec. 13 for discussion and possible action on TIFA projects.

Cable TV Mayor, council seek progress reporting

One of the most interesting dramas on cable television may be the continuing efforts of Barden Cablevision to complete the wiring of the City of Romulus.

In the latest episode, a discussion near the end of the regular city council meeting Monday evening resulted in the formal request by resolution of the council for written reports of progress of the cable firm along with schedules of the areas yet to be wired with specific target dates. The council members also requested that Barden Cablevision provide a written report of any problems

10 at random for him."

At the meeting McAnally expressed her concerns regarding the situation. "I'm disappointed on two counts. First, I find it very difficult when not impossible to get ahold of Don Barden, and secondly, we've done everything, made every effort to expedite the installation of cable and look where we are."

In response to the mayor's report, members of the council were highly critical of the progress Barden had been making in the city and of the apparent lack of commitment to the project evidenced by the cable company.

"We're anxious to have cable and anxious to get it to the people. We're trying to hold up our end and I'm sure they're trying to do the same."

that may have occurred, or caused any delay.

Don Barden, president of Barden Cablevision, reached by phone Tuesday, explained that his company would, "be happy to provide them with reports. They've been very cooperative and we'll certainly cooperate with them in whatever manner they would like."

The resolution requiring the reports was proposed by Councilman Barry Baumann following Mayor Beverly McAnally's report to the council regarding the status of cable progress in the city. The mayor briefly discussed the request of the city that electrical inspector Bill Case monitor the installation of power boosters tapped into the cable lines. These installations are done by sub-contractors hired by the cable firm, and are not employees of Barden.

According to Case, the lists of subscribers that Barden had agreed to provide had not as yet arrived, nor had the firm hired an outside electrician as they had agreed.

Barden explained, during the phone interview, that this agreement occurred at an informal discussion more than two years ago. "Since then, we weren't aware of his (Case's) desire to have a list. We'll be happy to provide one. It was my understanding, however, that what was needed would be random samplings in a neighborhood. That is, he and I sit down and he says I need 10 in this neighborhood, and we pull

The motion requesting the reports on a monthly basis was proposed by Baumann, an outspoken critic of Barden.

"What happens is that citizens come to us, the council, and we don't know what's going on which ends up with us looking stupid. It's time we took the bull by the horns and get some answers. Everywhere we go people ask us about cable, when they can get it, things like that. How many excuses can we offer them?" Baumann said.

Reached later by phone, McAnally explained that she had spoken with Barden since the meeting and felt that, "maybe we've established closer communications."

"I think the public needs to know. I've been working ever since this was brought to my attention. I've contacted the officials and attempted to work out the problems with the electricians," the mayor said.

Barden explained that he was, "not aware of any of this. I don't know why it's a problem. It's a matter of Case asking us to inspect. We'll be glad to cooperate," he said.

"We're anxious to have cable and anxious to get it to the people. We're trying to hold up our end and I'm sure they're trying to do the same. We just wish everybody would hurry up," McAnally continued. "I think people need to know that the council has expressed their concern and that the mayor has spoken with Barden."

Election funding OK'd

According to State Rep. Lynn Owen (D-Maybee), local governmental units in four counties will be reimbursed more than $24,000 by the state for the cost of a June 5 special primary election to fill the vacancy created by the death of 21st District State Representative Richard Sullivan (D-New Boston).

The special primary was invalidated by the Michigan Supreme Court, which ruled June 19 that the 1983 reapportionment plan establishing new district boundaries for members of the Michigan House of Representatives was enacted unconstitutionally.

New primary and general election dates were subsequently set by Governor James Blanton to fill the House seat. Owen was the general election winner both to complete Sullivan's unexpired term and to represent the district for the 1985-86 legislative session.

Earlier this year, Owen urged members of the Legislature to amend Senate Bill 184 to include a $50,000 supplemental appropriation to reimburse the local units of government involved in the June 5 special primary. So far, $24,224 in reimbursable costs have been claimed by local units in Monroe, Lenawee, Washtenaw and Wayne counties.

A subcommittee of the Legislative Council recommended that the election costs be reimbursed as claimed, Owen said.

A tale worth telling

Frank Walker Jr. of Wayne has fished along the Huron River near the Flat Rock Dam for nearly a year without a nibble. His perseverance was rewarded last Wednesday morning when he hooked a four-pound coho and a 5½ pound rainbow trout. Then on Saturday morning he returned to the spot and was rewarded again with two cohos and another rainbow trout. An avid fisherman, Walker enjoys going after salmon and trout near Oscoda ... at least when he's not fishing on the Huron River.

The program runs for 10 weeks in the spring and 10 weeks in the fall. The current class will graduate on Dec. 12. The next class begins sometime in February.

Interested parents should phone Halecreek School for further information.

GIRL SCOUTS ON WHEELS... Troop 221 got things rolling at Skateland West on Nov. 28. It was a good time for everyone!

WANT TO KNOW ALL ABOUT DINOSAURS? Just ask the students from Barth Elementary, who are in Mrs. Hebert's second grade, or Mrs. Smith's third grade class. They should be able to answer all your questions after having visited the U of M Exhibit Museum in Ann Arbor on Nov. 27.

The children had been studying dinosaurs and were excited to see the prehistoric area of the museum, which featured an Allosaurus, Stegosaurus, Trachodon, Tyrannosaurus Rex and Mastodon.

The classes also toured the Michigan wildlife area and learned much about animal survival in nature. The children enjoyed seeing the stuffed animals and touching the animal skins.

Another highlight of the trip was the planetarium theatre, where a program on the fall sky in Michigan was shown.

The trip to the museum was certainly an enjoyable and memorable learning experience for the chaperones and teachers as well as the students. I wonder how many of the children have decided that a Stegosaurus would make a great pet.

HELPING HAND NEEDS HELPING HANDS... The Helping Hand Thrift Shop at 37510 Huron River Drive needs your help. The shop is open to the public for the sale of used clothing. Come in between 9 a.m. and 2 p.m. on Tuesday, Wednesday or Thursday and pick up some bargains or drop off a donation. Proceeds are needed to pay operating costs.

The Helping Hand gives clothing and food to needy people at any time of the year. They set up the bloodmobile program and have in the past given badly needed assistance in many emergency situations.

The directors wish to thank all of their faithful volunteers for dedicated service throughout the years.

If you or your group can give financial, physical or material support phone Florence at 941-5323 or stop in.

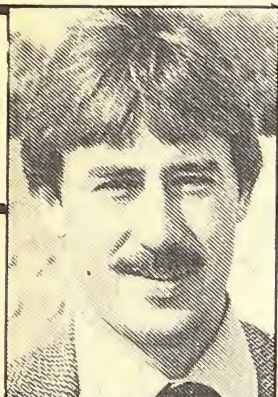

AN APPLE FOR THE TEACHER...

The Romulus Parents Area Council presented the Brass Apple to Henry James last Friday in recognition for participation, achievement and concern with the education community. Upon receiving the award, James remarked that he felt it was really the students who had earned it. RPAC feels it takes good teachers to make good students. James directs not only the High School Concert Band, but the Symphony Band, the Marching Band and the Jazz Band as well.

If you recall, the Jazz Band performed at the Montreaux Jazz Festival in Detroit last summer. Among those honored with Certificates of Appreciation were: Thomas Williams, Junior High Science Teacher; Richard Kruse, Jr. High Instrumental Music Dept. Head and teacher, also celebrated recipient of the First Annual RPAC Award; Diane Golka, Wick Elementary teacher; Ruth Fairchild, School District nurse; Virginia Cameron, Barth Elementary secretary; Wendy Blohm, Cory Elementary Learning Center specialist; Rosalie Berlinn, Merriman and Barth Elementary library aide; and Dan Bales, Board of Education president.

This award is a strong seedling planted for the continued growth of our educational community. Congratulations to all the nominees past, present and future. A job well begun.

Cost approach determines value bought by an uninformed buyer and another when purchased by an informed buyer.

This is not the case, however, and an understanding of market value involves the objective analysis of sale prices to determine that all the conditions of a good transaction have been met or allowed for. Once a sale has been analyzed, adjusted and determined to be a good transaction then we have a good indication of what the value of that property is.

However, when appraising or assessing an entire city or neighborhood, both the Market and Cost Approaches are necessary. Once the entire neighborhood is valued by the Cost Approach then a final adjustment must be made to those values for that particular area. This adjustment is done by computing a "Economic Condition Factor" or ECF.

In determining or computing an ECF, we take all of the sale prices for a given area, that have been determined to be good market transactions, minus the value of the land, and then divide that price by the appraised value of those properties derived from the Cost Approach to arrive at a percentage, which is the ECF. This Economic Condition Factor, or percentage, is then applied to all of appraised values derived from the Cost Approach in that area. This then gives the final adjusted value of the properties in that area.

The Market Approach is not always a feasible approach however. For instance, many times it is difficult to find comparable sales of large apartment or industrial complexes because people just do not buy and sell these large complexes as often as people do houses. In this case it is necessary to use the "Income Approach" to find value and/or to compare to the value arrived at with the Cost Approach.

Therefore, I will explain the Income Approach in a subsequent column.

The following is the fourth in a series of articles on tax assessments, reassessments, Board of Review, Tribunals and other matters related to the levying of taxes within the City of Romulus.

As mentioned in a prior column, the Cost Approach is one of three methods used in determining the "market value" of any particular piece of real estate. However, since cost schedules are used state and nationwide the result or value derived must be compared with or adjusted to the local market. This is done by way of the Market Approach.

The Market Approach to value is the process of estimating the value of property by the comparison of sales data taken from the market. Since the term "value" is an intangible concept that is in the minds of buyers and sellers, the sales price paid for a particular property does not necessarily reflect the market value of that property.

If this were true, then a property could have one value when

Rate hike refused

In September, Barden Cablevision sent a notice to Mayor Beverly McAnally's office, members of the city's cable commission and city council, asking that it be approved for them to raise the rates, even though only a small number of homes in Romulus had been hooked up to the long-promised cable television.

Barden proposed a rate structure which would reduce the fee for "premium" channels, such as HBO and Showtime, from $9.95 per channel to $6.95, and raise the charge for "expanded service," which includes channels 14 through 60, minus the movie channels. Stations 1 through 12 are included in the basic fee.

As a result, customers getting three or more premium channels could save money, but subscribers getting only basic and expanded service and one movie channel would lose.

A household ordering only basic and expanded would pay $6 more under the proposed change.

At the Nov. 13 meeting of the cable commission Claude Williams spoke out against the increase and said he was "totally against such a rate structure."

The adjustment was denied. Later, at the same meeting, Williams informed the cable commissioners that Earlie Coleman had been named to fill the unexpired term of Paul Kennedy.

In addition, the commission stated that according to their latest communication with Barden, cable will be installed in Romulus in the following order:

1) Southwest;

- 2) Southeast;
- 3) Central business district (downtown);
- 4) Northwest and
- 5) Northeast.

Taking part in a groundbreaking ceremony for the Michigan Humane Society's new $1.9 million center in Westland are (from left) Assistant Manager Paula Montney (holding friend), contractor Arthur Shmina, Society Board Member Laura Lee Greer, Shelter Manager Kathy Blauet and Director of Education and Public Relations Ron Blauet. Humane Society breaks ground for new shelter

By ROSE MARY REIZ
ANP Staff Writer

The Michigan Humane Society (MHS) will double the size of Western Wayne County operations when the current Westland shelter is replaced with a $1.9 million state-of-the-arts animal shelter and veterinary hospital, scheduled for completion in 1986.

MHS representatives hosted a groundbreaking ceremony last Wednesday for the new 23,000-square-foot center, which will serve local communities from the site of the present shelter at 37255 Marquette in Westland.

The new facility will be constructed in two phases, the first consisting of a 6,000-square-foot hospital designed to provide animal care and a learning environment for veterinary interns, Gary Tiscornia, MHS assistant to the director, explained.

"The completion of the hospital phase in June next year will, we believe, see the first interns from Michigan State University learning and observing the ethical is completed and should be ready for occupancy by mid-1986, Tiscornia said.

"We believe the new facility will be state-of-the-arts with real and veterinary practices of the society," Tiscornia said.

"Quality of medical practices at the new hospital will be second to none," he said, adding that veterinary procedures at the society differ from those of private practitioners in several ways, and that veterinary students may benefit from exposure to the society's standards.

"There are some procedures, such as ear cropping and tail docking, that we won't perform," Tiscornia explained.

"We also serve low-paying and indigent clients, placing the needs of the animals before those of the owners," he added. "This sensitivity for the needs of animals in today's environment has too often been treated as a secondary concern. We're hoping to offer a slightly different perspective to those who study here, so that they may carry that sensitivity with them as they enter private veterinary practice."

Phase two of the new project, the animal shelter, is scheduled for construction after the hospital guards to equipment and the control of contagious diseases," Tiscornia said.

Construction of the new facility will involve the hiring of potentially nine more employees and may also result in expanded clinic and hospital hours, he added.

"Western Wayne County is obviously a growing area and may in the future require more of the services that have traditionally been performed in Detroit, such as an animal rescue services," Tiscornia said. "Future plans will depend on what the animals in Western Wayne County need."

Current services at the Westland Shelter will continue during construction. The present center, built in 1971, will be leveled and paved for a parking lot once the new center is complete.

Funding for the $1.9 project may come from trust funds, fundraising efforts and contributions from the non-profit society's more than 23,000 members and donors.

the letter writer... by genny eades

Dear Letter Writer:

I wrote the following letter to my Grandma and Grandpa. I don't get to see them much as they live in Florida and have for the past several years. I have been very negligent in writing to them on a regular basis but this has nothing to do with my love for them. Would you please tell me if you think I can improve upon this letter.

Sincerely, BE

Dear Grandma and Grandpa,

I know I haven't told either one of you in a long time that I love you. I couldn't even begin to tell you how much, it's inconceivable. You both have given me so much strength and encouragement to better myself. Something I couldn't love you enough for. It seems you are able to see and find things in us that not many people have time to look for. I can't thank you enough for that. You're so special that you couldn't begin to understand.

Just knowing that you have been so patient in letting us become adults and making us see some of the qualities that we never knew we had.

From this point on, I will never be neglectful in writing and keeping you up to date on the latest joys, disappointments, crisis, etc.

Now that I'm running out of room, I'll close saying only that, You're The Best. I love you,

Dear BE,

There is no way in the world that I could improve upon your letter to your grandparents. It is replete with warmth and sincerity and I wouldn't think of touching my pen to it. I wish you the best of luck in "keeping your pledge to keep in touch with them". I am certain that your message to them is worth "everything in the world".

Sincerely, The Letter Writer

Time for Christmas tree chopping

Families who enjoy the fresh pine scent of a live evergreen in their homes during the holidays can bundle up and head for a farm to cut their own Christmas trees, according to the Automobile Club of Michigan.

Some 482,000 trees in more than a dozen varieties are available at the 62 choose-and-cut tree farms listed on the Auto Club's 1984 guide.

Prices begin at $3 for Scotch pines, the same as last year. Families may expect to pay up to $50 for large or more expensive trees such as Douglas fir and blue spruce. A few farms price some trees by height, varying from $1.50 to $4 per foot depending on the type.

The variety of trees grown in Michigan include white and Norway spruce, balsam, concolor and grand fir, and white, Austrian and ponderosa pine.

Families may reserve trees at 19 farms. Persons who are looking for trees after Dec. 15 are advised to call ahead to check availability.

A number of the farms listed by the Auto Club offer more than an opportunity to choose a tree. Twenty farms offer wagon rides and 15 sell beverages or snacks. Farms at Paw Paw, Clio, Ida and Grass Lake have gift shops, offering items ranging from trinkets to antiques.

Tree farms within a short distance of the metropolitan area include:

— Green Tee Par 3, 2233 Oakville Waltz Road, one mile west of I-275, exit 8, Carleton. Phone 654-6427 or 654-2039. 1,000 trees, $20. Open daily 10 a.m. to dusk. Scotch pine, spruce, balsam, large trees, saws provided. Hot beverages and snack bar available.

— Boughan's Tree Farm, 15851 Martinsville Road, Belleville. Phone 699-5062. 500 trees, $11. Open Daily 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. Scotch pine, spruce other greenery. Tree wrapping and saw provided.

CHIROPRACTIC OUTLOOK

By Dr. Thomas Anderson

DRIVER'S FATIGUE
Car seats may be fashionable, but for most spines, they are hurtful. They force your back into varied exaggerated curves. Up-right and rigid or bent forward, you are pushed uncomfortably behind the driver's wheel.

Your chiropractor's thorough examination can find the imbalance in your back that is the cause of the problem. This may be misalignment (subluxation) of your spinal column; there may be a lack of sufficient oxygen to back muscles. Poor posture while driving often causes an imbalance in muscle groups that finally erupts as pain.

Gentle chiropractic adjustments help realign your spine so vital nerve energy flows freely through your body. You are given prescribed exercises to build spinal strength, and important postural guidelines.

CARLETON

Army Spec. 4 Terrance C. Adams, son of Zephree Adams of Golf Road, Carleton, and Curtis Adams of Milan, was involved in a NATO-sponsored exercise by participating in the Army's return of forces to Germany (REFORGER) and the Air Force's Crested Cap exercises. The exercises are designed to develop uniformity of doctrine, standardize procedures for rapid response to a crisis and demonstrate solidarity in commitment to NATO goals and objectives. Adams is a tracked-vehicle mechanic with the 3rd Infantry Division in Aschaffenbrug, West Germany. His wife, Carolyn, is the daughter of Henry and Roberta Spooner of Hivon, Carleton. He is a 1976 graduate of Airport High School, Carleton.

Lucas calls for 'crime tax' cut

Wayne County Executive William Lucas is taking steps to refurbish the county's Road Maintenance Division by authorizing the expenditure of $6 million in new equipment and instituting an aggressive truck driving training program which will add nearly 50 drivers to the heavily depleted snow and ice removal work force.

Lucas explained that "we have made a solid commitment to Wayne County taxpayers to spend less road money on management and administration and more dollars on direct services to the public."

"Our management audit reveals that the old Road Commission was negligent in replacing vehicles at a rate of less than 1 percent per year — far lower than the break-down rate," Lucas added. "That policy is inefficient and much more expensive in the long-run. Regardless of the number of employees available to work, if the equipment is not capable of performing, the work will not get done."

"This negligence necessitates our expenditure of $6 million to replace broken down vehicles and equipment. Meanwhile, our administrative costs will be much lower."

The executive recently approved the purchase of various types of equipment such as loaders, pickup trucks, dump trucks, bucket trucks, crew cab trucks and excavators. The roads fleet did receive some relief last year with the addition of 30 badly needed new trucks.

Anticipating a heavily overburdened fleet, county repair mechanics have been working overtime for the past few weeks to ready the 1623 truck fleet for the upcoming ice and snow removal season. Employees have been working six days and 10 hours a day to put the equipment into shape.

In addition, Lucas, recognizing a critical shortage of truck drivers due to early retirements, has initiated a training program whereby current employees are being tested for promotion to the class of equipment operator. Hopefully, the new operators will fill the void created by the many departures.

During the last 1½ months, laborers have been given a written test to qualify for the one-week training sessions. Successful candidates are then given truck driving instructions at various maintenance yards before they are put on the roads. Employees will be evaluated and rated on the training performance before being placed on an eligibility list as candidates for equipment operators.

Wayne County's salt supply for the 1984/85 season is in good condition with more than 65,000 tons on hand. The snow and ice removal program usually starts the season with about 75,000 tons, which is three quarters of a normal winter's usage. Salt is continuing to be delivered to 19 yard locations throughout the county.

Red Cross in need of volunteers

"We Need More of You" is the urgent appeal challenging Wayne County residents from the American Red Cross, Southeastern Michigan Chapter.

"We need more volunteers to assist with operations at blood drives and donor centers like the one in Dearborn," said Shirley McElfresh, R.N., a Red Cross staff nurse and spokesperson for the appeal. "The most important duty of a blood team volunteer is making each donor's visit a pleasant, relaxing experience that will make them want to donate blood again." According to McElfresh, each volunteer plays an important part in the success of a blood drive. The nurses could not do the job without them, she says.

There is a critical shortage of blood team volunteers throughout the tri-county area. The permanent donor center serving us is located at Village Plaza, 23400 Michigan Ave., Dearborn. Blood team volunteers are asked to assist at this location

'Yes' to Goodfellows

"No child without a Christmas" is a familiar slogan at this time of year.

For 74 years the Goodfellows have worked to turn the slogan into reality, relying on volunteers from all walks of life and a generous public. Observing various Goodfellows selling newspapers on street corners reminds us of the annual appeal.

Although the Goodfellows are in the public eye only at this time of year, their charitable work goes on year round. It is during the Christmas season, however, that the organization raises the funds that make their efforts possible.

Charitable appeals during the holidays are many; we are constantly being asked to donate of our time and monies. With the growing number of requests, it would be easy to forget about the Goodfellows. And that would be a tragic mistake.

One smile on one child's face at Christmas is worth the continued support of the Goodfellows. These local volunteers take our contributions and put them back into the community where they will do the most good. We need to support the hungry around the world, yet we also must be cognizant of the plight of the needy in our own communities.

In our opinion, no Christmas would be complete without a contribution to the Goodfellows. If one is unsure as to how to get in touch with the local Goodfellow representatives, contact city hall to locate the area coordinator.

In the spirit of the season of giving, we encourage everyone to say "yes" to the Goodfellows. For in saying "yes" to these dedicated volunteers, citizens will truly spread the joy of Christmas to those less fortunate.

Christmas: Joy and sorrow

Much has been written about the human emotions triggered by the holiday season. What is it that causes such joy and sorrow at this particular time of year?

Perhaps it's that Christmas has become, through the ages, a "benchmark" by which we gauge our own existence. We tend to be reflective, comparing one Christmas against another. We pause and ponder changes in our lives and those of our family. We think back to our childhood and the first Christmas we can recall. We remember the holidays of our children, from the time they were just babies. We think of the personal joy and sorrow experienced in times past during these "happy holidays."

Christmas is characterized as a magical time. A Disney World-like fantasy has enveloped the imagery of the season.

For many it is a wonderful time, a chance to enjoy the parades, music, colored lights, the smell of evergreen, brightly decorated trees and gifts and the special treats reserved all year for just this holiday.

It is for many a time of parties, and social gatherings of friends and families. For children, it is the "wish list," the visit to Santa, and the fun and surprise of opening gifts on Christmas morning.

All these things weave together in the mind's eye to form, for many, a joyful time of caring and sharing of the spirit of giving and goodwill toward our "fellow man."

For many, however, it is a sad, lonely and depressing time, which must be endured while waiting for it to pass. For some, it brings back many painful memories. Perhaps it was the death, serious injury or illness of someone very close.

It is for some a reminder that another year has passed, and that they are growing older. Some dwell on the life and worldly death of Jesus Christ. In doing so, there is perhaps a subconscious feeling of futility. For if this is how the world treats perfection, what chance does a mere mortal have?

Those in nursing homes, senior citizen apartments, hospitals, prisons and other institutions often experience feelings of loneliness, depression, regret, and sometimes self-pity.

For the poor there is often anger, frustration, tears and questions: "Why has the Lord dealt me this hand? Why do I not have the means to give my loved ones gifts which adequately express my love and will tell them how much I care? Why, when I work so hard, do I not have what others have? Why isn't life fair?" Shades of "The Gift of the Magi."

A doctor friend once told me of the unbelievable increase in deaths of patients at Christmas. Police and fire fighters have to deal with the staggering increase in suicides during the "joyous holiday season."

Many feel the pressure society exerts. Everyone is supposed to be happy. If you are not filled with the "Spirit," entertaining your many friends, and invited to social occasions, there must be something wrong with you. You are truly a misfit.

The fact is the holidays are not all happiness and fun for most.

Families play the major role in both the joy and the sorrow of this season. Those we love, but who are far away tear at our hearts. Those we will see seem to trigger a feeling that our lives must become reconciled. Personal matters not discussed tend to rise to the surface. Unresolved conflicts in the family become apparent, often evidenced by those attending or invited to holiday gatherings and just as often by the lack of such an invitation or attendance. Witness the

Anti-hunting stand

To the Editor:

If one is to believe the article on duck hunting in the Nov. 21 Enterprise, one must also believe in the tooth fairy!

The lake was closed to hunting because the board was anti-hunting, no other reason existed. I was at that meeting and here's a quote from Golitzer the supervisor. "If you want to shoot ducks go to the zoo!" Another board member said, "One duck killed is one too many!"

Danger to the public was not even brought up and as for danger to boaters and skiers, how many boaters and skiers are on the lake in November? Also, all duck hunting in the 50 years of hunting on Belleville Lake saw not one person ever hit by a shotgun pellet. How safe is it when a boat goes 70 miles per hour and kills 2 people? How many drowned since the lake began?

The real asinine statement comes from a resident at the recent meeting. "The pellets can drift and strike an innocent person."

All duck hunting on the lake was done from a distance that no pellets could come close to anyone.

Perhaps the new board will see the stupidity of the ban and let the lake be used by all the residents. The ban was just an anti hunting stand.

'Queen for a day'

To the Editor:

A great big thank you to all concerned with the photo, article and lovely dinner and early evening out we had as a result of the recipe contest.

My husband and I both really enjoyed it, but, most of all, the surprise of it all was best of everything.

We were treated very special and would sure recommend "Paddy's Pub" to anyone as the service was great and the food and drinks were cooked and served just as one would like it. There was no rush or hurry and an especially nice friendly atmosphere.

Thanks again from a lady that felt like "Queen for a Day."

Tax disaster

To the Editor:

We are deeply concerned about the newest push from Washington to "simplify" taxes which could have serious and dangerous consequences for the people of Michigan.

Something called the flat rate tax is being pushed under a number of different bills, as a quick fix solution to replace the progressive income tax. It would wipe out most deductions and tax everyone at one "flat rate. Sounds simple.

But there's a catch. Many economists say it would unintentionally shift the tax burden to moderate income wage earners while cutting taxes for those who earn more than $50,000 annually by $40 billion. It could also stifle investment needed to stimulate jobs and economic growth. It could eliminate funding sources for municipal improvements and housing and dry up capital for energy exploration.

The progressive income tax, based on the reasonable concept that those who earn more should pay more makes sense. True reform could make it work better. But the flat tax isn't reform — it's disaster waiting to happen.

(The following is an excerpt from the new book I've written, which is entitled "Real Reporters Don't Drink Decaffeinated Coffee," which will be published sometime before Christmas so I can really rake in the cash. Planned sequels include "No Bad Reporters," "101 Uses for a Dead Reporter," "The Preppy Reporter," "Sex Tips For Reporters," and, of course, "Garfield and The Reporter.")

- Real Reporters don't take no for an answer. Real reporters have dental insurance.
- Real Reporters never get "writer's block."

This is due to an endless influx of press releases.

- Real Reporters have a good sense of humor. This comes from years of seeing how their copy has been edited.
- Real Reporters don't have bad handwriting. It's just that they've developed their own style of shorthand that no one else can decipher.
- Real Reporters don't have messy, cluttered-up desks. It's an illusion so people will think they've been working hard.
- Real Reporters don't drink heavily because of the intense pressure of the job ... they do it because they like to.
- Real Reporters don't drink decaffeinated coffee. Caffeine is the lifeblood of most newspapers.

FLASH! Due to the upcoming tremendous response, the book "Real Reporters Don't Drink Decaffeinated Coffee" has been deemed destined for the New York Times Best Seller's List, which not only means that more sequels have been commissioned, but also that the television and film rights have been sold.

Additional titles to follow will include "Truly Tasteless Reporters (volumes I, II and III)," "How To Pick Up Reporters," "Miss Manners' Guide To Truly Excruciating Reporting" and, naturally, "Fear and Loathing in the Newsroom."

On the television front, there is the planned animated special, "Snoopy Goes to Journalism School," the Norman Lear produced "All In the Newsroom," the Jerry Van Dyke vehicle "My Mother the Word Processor" and, cashing in on one of the biggest movie hits of the past few years, there's "Ghandi Grant," possibly starring Ed Asner as a reporter who gets all the big stories by refusing to eat.

Reportedly, film magnate George "Star Wars" Lucas is writing the screen play for the motion picture "The Editor Strikes Back," which is due to start filming late in '85. Harrison Ford has reportedly signed on in the role of Indiana Falls, editor of a rather pungent Detroit daily.

Cashing in on the biggest game craze to rock the nation since "Post Office" and "Mystery Date," "Trivial Reporters" is set for release in time for the Christmas rush. Additional card sets will be available early in 1985, including "trivial news stories," "trivial features," "trivial press releases" and, for adults only, "trivial libel."

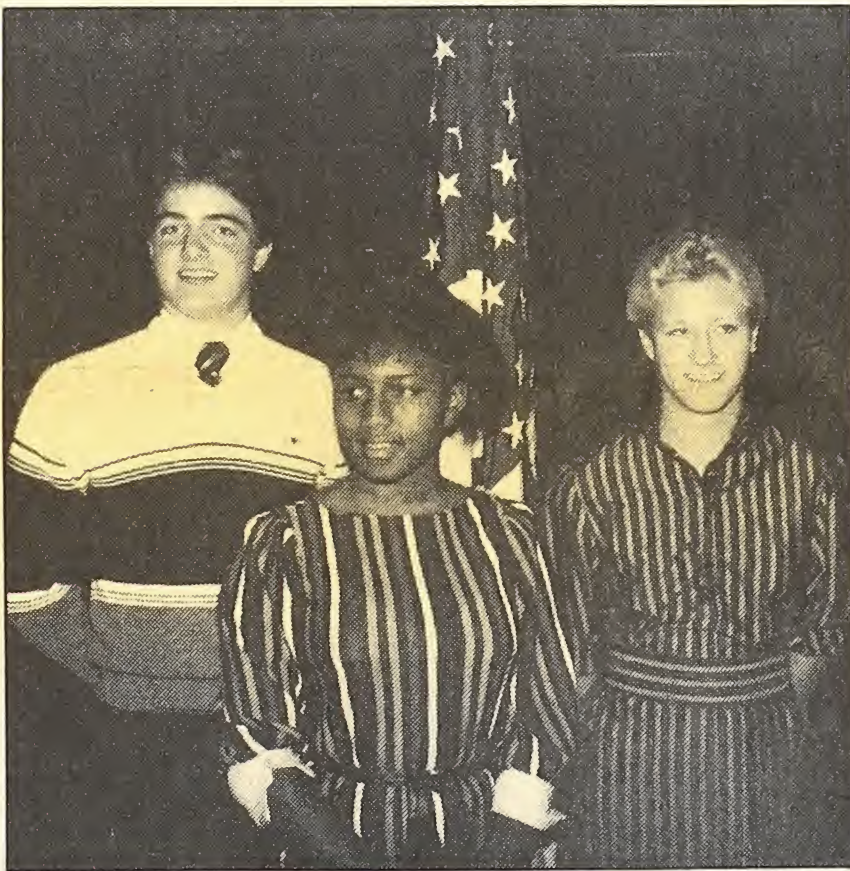

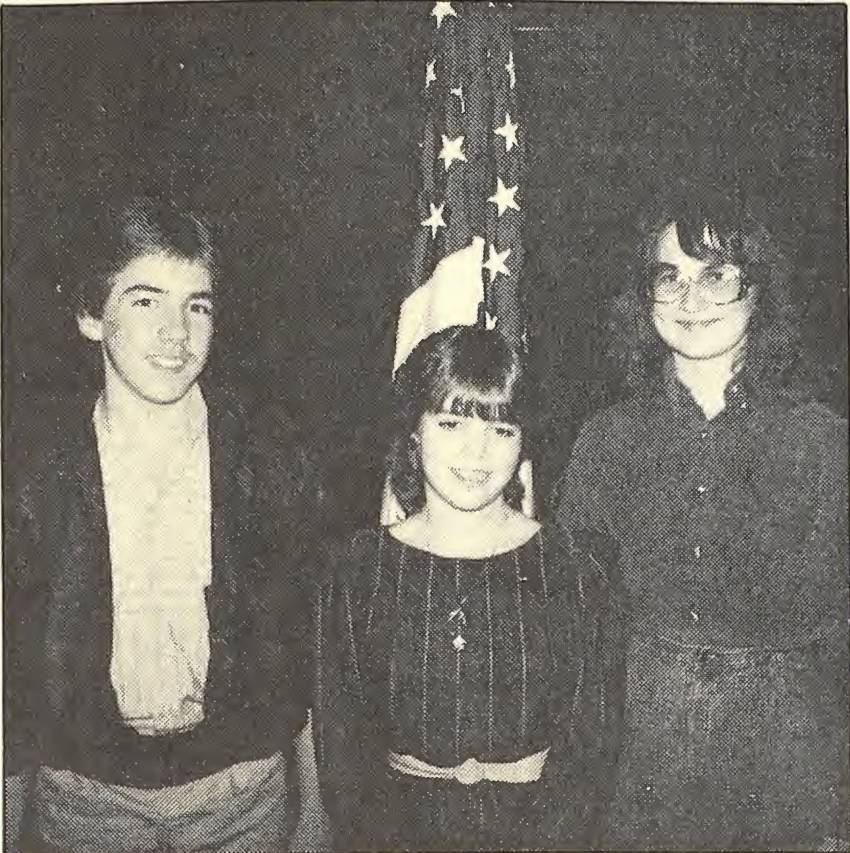

To promote all of this, a certain "men's magazine" will of course carry the "Women of Associated Newspapers" pictorial, which will later be turned into a calendar. "Playgirl" has already contacted us about a "Hunks of Associated Newspapers" pictorial as well.

And you thought it was going to be a dull year (Steve O'Leary is, in addition to working as a reporter, the author of numerous unpublished and, as yet, unwritten, books.)

Voice of Democracy

"My pledge to America"

High School students from John Glenn and Wayne Memorial recently participated in the 38th annual Voice of Democracy contest sponsored by the Kehrer VFW and Ladies Auxilliary. Students delivered three to five-minute speeches on the topic, "My Pledge to America." Top finishers included John Glenn representatives (top photo) Chris Schuck (left), third place; Kim Gerber, second, and Bridgette Daniels, first. Winners from Wayne Memorial were (bottom photo) David Grohan (left), third; Rolita Baker, second, and Danielle Trzeciak, first. First-place winners were given a $100 bond and trophy and will compete in VFW district competition. Arnold Rodmacher and Helen Stevens served as chairpersons of the local competition.

Reagan family revelations when son Michael was absent from the family Thanksgiving gathering.

All can survive the holidays if we keep in mind some of the "realities" of life. I am reminded that the element of stress is present in both positive and negative occurrences. Whether your holidays prove to be filled with joy, as I hope they will, or touched with sorrow as so many are, you will be normal if you feel the stress.

Regardless of our circumstance, we would all do well to be grateful for what we do have, and have had ... remembering the good times and not dwelling on the bad.

It is also best that we avoid situations that "subtract" from the joy and "add" to the sorrow.

I pray that each of you will be able to survive the holiday season and all that it entails for you and yours. May you experience the feeling of love and joy that was meant to be yours.

Merry Christmas. See you next week.

united. Only in this way can we truly remember beloved India."

It brought to mind Patrick Henry's thoughts of "united we stand, divided we fall."

As two separate nations we are different but our philosophy is basically the same. If we remain united we can do a lot; as two separate democracies we can each do our parts in striving toward a permanent and lasting peace.

I have written the following words in tribute to a great woman and leader, Indira Gandhi:

When someone takes another's life

The end result is stress and strife.

How satanic was the slaughter
Of your native Indian daughter.
In fellow men we put our trust
And sometimes we are turned to dust.
Shots ring out that end a life
Why so great a sacrifice?
At times God requires our very soul
He alone is in control.

Blessed Christmas

To the Editor:
With yuletide shopping in full swing, we all have the especially privileged opportunity to experience the joy of celebrating Christmas in a way most pleasing to our Savior.

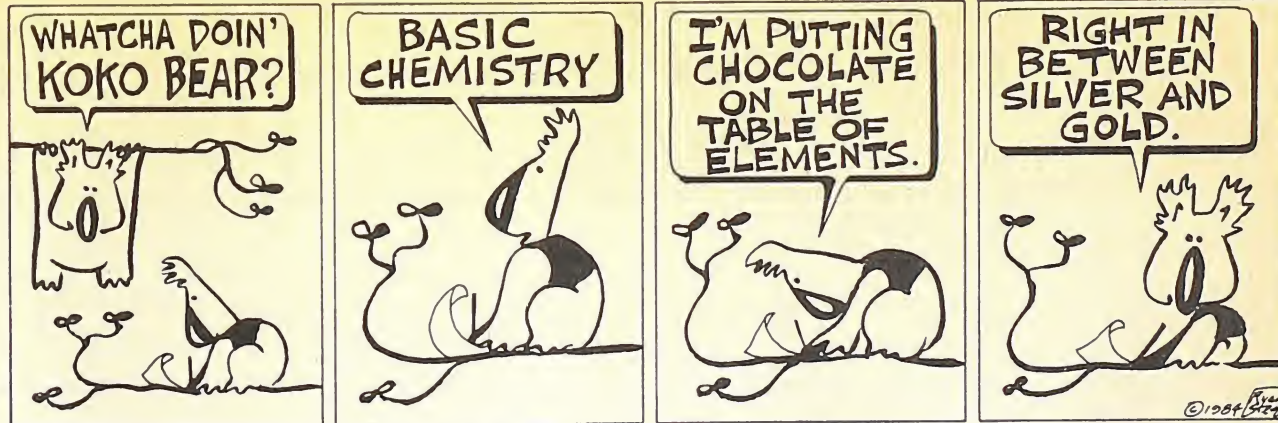

He has both shown and told us the way. He taught us that whatever we do for those in greatest need, we do for Him. We can respond by sharing our blessings with the great many in our world who suffer starvation, disease, and other terrible afflictions.

The more we lessen our piles of gifts under our trees, the more hungry we can feed, and the more will be our feelings of genuine joy and closeness with Christ.

We wish everyone, especially our many benefactors, a truly Blessed Christmas.

PCHA recognizes Wheeler's work

Walter S. Wheeler, administrator of Heritage Hospital in Taylor since it opened in 1977 and former administrator of two other hospitals owned by Peoples Community Hospital Authority (PCHA), retired at the end of October, completing a 27-year career with PCHA.

Wheeler had the distinction of opening not only Heritage Hospital and establishing PCHA's first mental health service at that facility, but opening Outer Drive Hospital in Lincoln Park, also within the PCHA system. During his distinguished career with PCHA, Wheeler also accepted interim assignments as administrator of Beyer Memorial Hospital and as executive director of the authority.

As a "door opener" at two PCHA hospitals, Wheeler was responsible for staffing the hospitals, recruiting physicians, and developing service programs that continue to serve area residents today.

In honoring Wheeler for his service, the PCHA Board presented him with a board resolution and plaque saluting him for being an "effective and innovative leader, earning the respect of his peers and medical professionals for his ability to create a well-managed, efficient environment for healing, which demands the highest quality of care for patients."

Colleagues, friends, past and current employees feted Wheeler and his wife, Jeannette, at two retirement dinners, and the PCHA Board of Directors gave him a standing ovation at the last board meeting he attended.

Included in the board resolution was the recognition that "through Mr. Wheeler's loyalty and dedication to Peoples Community Hospital Authority, he will always be identified as a key reason that PCHA has grown and improved consistently over the past quarter of a century."

Walter and Jeannette Wheeler lived on Grosse Ile for 26 years, and raised five children.

Serenity

What happened to serenity
That kept our peace of mind?
We don't take time to contemplate,
We use what first we find.
Seldom do we walk the lane
Through field or meadow's calm.
Instead we reach for what will do
Just beneath our palm.
Tranquility's reflection
Brings the treasures men have wrought.
Though, the rush of judgment flounders
Through the chaos of blind thought.

Serenity in times of old
Gave wisdom to the sage.
We cannot seem to nurture thought
No matter what our age.
We want a ready answer
As quick as we can think.
The chain will reach quite far enough
Without the missing link.
With all the great decisions
In the future of our state,
The youth must find serenity
Or leave it all to fate.

Salem edges Canton for district cage title
Rocks to host "A" regional tournament

By KEITH DeMOLAY
ANP Special Writer

Coach Fred Thomann of Plymouth Salem said it best — "It was a tough, knock-down, drag-out game."

This was not a football game he was describing but rather the girls' district basketball game between his Plymouth Salem Rocks and their archrivals and neighbors Plymouth Canton Chiefs staged last Friday at Westland John Glenn.

Salem came out the winner, 43-41, but not before the Chiefs game them a scare.

However, it wasn't that way in the beginning as the Rocks used balanced scoring from all five starters to take an early lead. Mary Beth West and Fran Whitaker scored four points apiece in the first quarter.

In fact, Canton

failed to score a field goal for the first 6:01 of the period. Beth Frigge (Jr., 5-3) hit a shot at the 1:59 mark that pulled her team to within 14-9 and Diana Knickerbocker (Jr., 5-8) canned a pair of free throws (she had seven for the game) that closed the gap to 14-11 at the end of period number one.

Then, before Salem knew what hit it, Canton burst into the lead on the strength of nine straight points.

With 3:58 left, Kathy Ross (Sr., 5-7) hit a free throw that tied the game at 14 points apiece. Thirty seconds later, Knickerbocker hit two more free throws and Canton led, 16-14. Ross hit a bucket for two more points and they led, 18-14.

Before the run was over, Canton had a 20-14 lead and their boisterous fans were cheering for an upset. But Salem's girls, who reached the quarterfinals last year, were calm and quietly crept back into the game.

Dena Head, a 5-10 freshman who is a deft ballhandler, helped cut part of that lead to 20-17 with a three-point play. Canton answered that with a bucket but Kendra Hostynski (Sr., 5-7) cut the lead again to 22-19, then Jessica Handley (So., 5-6) hit a shot with a second left to cut Canton's lead to 23-21 at the half.

Whatever Thomann told his girls at halftime — he told them "not to foul" — it worked. Salem came out rejuvenated and outscored the Chiefs 14-8 for the period. It was nip-and-tuck for awhile, until Kristen Hostynski (So., 5-8) hit two buckets for a 35-31 lead at the end of the third period.

Then came "white See SALEM Pg. 2-B

Willis could be key to Irish cage season

Wayne's Lavetta Willis will launch her sophomore season as a member of the University of Notre Dame's women's basketball team.

Willis, a 5-11, 145-pound forward who prepped at Ladywood High School, played in all 28 of the Irish games last year and shot a sizzling 624 (50 of 72) from the floor to lead the team. She also was one of the team's top rebounders with a 4.1 average.

Willis also owns the Irish free throw record, canning 10-of-10 at the line against Michigan State. She earned four cage letters and three volleyball numerals while at Ladywood.

Considered a versatile front-line performer who surprised many with a very successful freshman season, Lavetta follows in her father's footsteps. Her father was an outstanding cager at Lane College while her sister competed in track at Ohio State.

Willis is enrolled in the College of Engineering.

Basketball takes over

Basketball takes over the high school sports scene Friday night as hundreds of teams open the 1984-85 season. Local schools can boast having some of the finest talent in the state this year in 6-9½ junior Terry Mills who will lead Romulus High's fortunes, and Inkster High's Anthony White, an all-state performer who has caught the imagination of hundreds of college scouts. The Associated Newspapers will continue its coverage of the prep sports scene which will include basketball, swimming, wrestling, volleyball and gymnastics.

By TOM MOORADIAN
ANP Staff Writer

It's always nice to begin a high school basketball season with a 6-9½ center.

And when that 6-9½ center happens to be Terry Mills who is considered by the top collegiate scouts as the No. 1 junior cager in the United States, well you can fill in all of the adjectives, adverbs and use all of the superlatives you want.

That's what Romulus High and coach Al Wilkerson have in the way of starters this season. They have Terry Mills.

You won't forget that name. It will be used over-and-over again by local and area sports writers.

"Terry is just an outstanding talent," says Wilkerson who will launch his fifth season as head coach at Romulus with the sensational junior. "And he's always working to get better. We want him to be an all-around player who can shoot, rebound, dribble and pass — the complete player."

More than 100 college scouts are expected to jam into New Boston High Friday night to watch Mills and the Eagles take on Huron in the 1984-85 season opener.

There is also a talented supporting cast. Mills will definitely command attention, but so will Steve Glenn, a 6-0 returning guard who was the catalyst of last year's 19-5 won-lost season. Wilkerson also has sophomore Billy Campbell, also a 6-1 sharp-shooter and Stacey Wilson, a 6-1 senior, for the other guard post.

At the other forward slot will be either senior Jai Simon (6-3) or Samuels Keith (6-2, sophomore) while David Blevins (6-2) and Green Horton (6-2) round out the starting prospects.

The Eagles aren't expected to encounter any problems Friday night at Huron. Their real test will come Tuesday when they travel to Warren LaSalle where a veteran and state ranked team are eager to get a hold of them. (Pre-season rankings put LaSalle in the No. 8 slot and Romulus in 14th.)

LaSalle reached the quarter-finals of the Class A state tournament before it was ousted by Brother Rice. Four of LaSalle's five starters are back.

"Our first big test will be at Warren," noted Wilkerson. "But I won't worry about them now. I hear that Huron has an excellent team and our first concern is our first game."

"This team definitely has the potential of being my best team, among the best teams in the long history of our school . . ."

Coach Al Wilkerson
Romulus High

"This team definitely has the potential of being my best team and among the best teams in the history of our school," commented Wilkerson. When you consider the school has produced such stars as Johnny Long, outstanding forward for the Detroit Pistons, that's saying a lot.

Juan Street, a 6-5 forward who will get his share of notices before he hangs up his prep cage jersey. Juan is the son of a former All-Area, All-Conference cager, Noland Street who starred at Romulus in the early sixties. Then, look for Avery Jones, a 6-1 junior who is being pushed by

Huron has honor to test Mills, Romulus

To a young and inexperienced New Boston Huron goes the honor of testing Romulus High's phenomenal 6-10 junior, Terry Mills. Coach Terry Sumenick's Chiefs will host Romulus Friday night for the season opener.

"We know what we're up against," said Coach Sumenick who is picking up the pieces of a 8-13 won-lost record of a year ago. "Terry is rated as the No. 1 junior prep cager in the country this year and we're going to have our hands full.

"After all, our biggest kid is 6-2 (Randy Roland) and put him up against a 6-10 player like Mills and obviously it's a mismatch."

Sumenick says that the game will give his Chiefs "vital experience" for the conference campaign. "We're probably the smallest team in the league this year."

With Roland returning to the center spot, Sumenick will probably also tag Albie Kormos, a senior, for one of the guard slots and Al Livermore, also a senior, for forward. He also has returning to his roster 5-8 senior guard Chris Boulton.

Sumenick has been impressed with the over-all effort of two sophomores: Jim Umin, a 5-8 guard, and Dan Goddard, a 5-10 forward whom, he says, will see more than their share of action this year.

"We have four sophomores on this club, so we don't have a heck of a lot of experience," Sumenick knuckle" time for fans and players alike on both sides. Salem built a seven-point lead, 38-31, with 6:55 to go and they looked like they were ready to hit the pedal.

But Canton refused to fold. They came racing back to out-score the Rocks, 10-5, and give Thomann a few grey hairs. With 14 seconds left, Whittaker's free throws built the lead to 42-39, but Frigge's shot at the other end of the court two seconds later cut it to 42-41.

However, a free throw and ten seconds later, time had run out on the valiant effort of the Chiefs and Salem had its second district title in as many years.

Salem now takes on Livonia Franklin in the regional opener this week at its own gym.

Earlier in the week, Salem defeated a scrappy Westland John Glenn squad, 35-33, as the Rocks used 10 points from Dena Head and 8 from Fran Whittaker to advance to the second round of district competition.

Glenn was led by senior Michelle McCullen with 15 points but Thomann took care of the Rockets' "twin towers" — Stacy Graham and Jenny Okan — holding them to only six points for the game. Glenn had a 23-16 lead at the half but Salem outscored the Rockets 11-2 for the third quarter to grab a 27-25 lead. Glenn fought back as Julie Pucci and Michelle McCullen led the way. Finally, with 18 seconds left, Head's free throws game them a 35-31 lead and Salem had extended their season.

mission seemed to sound the knell for Temperence.

In the preliminary round, Monroe's Trojans had Bayes and the Eagles on the ropes but couldn't execute the knock-out punch. Up by as much as 12 points early in the second period, Monroe managed to keep the jittery Eagles off-balance until Colleen got her game going. The elusive cager drilled in a successive flow of baskets to rally her team.

But in the stretch it was clutch free throws by Angie Morrison and McKay that sealed the victory for the champs.

"We made a couple of key one-and-ones," Bayes pointed out, "and that did it. Omarzu also came through for us in that nip-and-tuck fourth period."

noted, "but they're scrappy and I expect us to be very competitive."

Huron's major problem this season as in the past three is the Chiefs' don't have a "big man".

Vikings will have to be great to be good in SAC this year

By TOM MOORADIAN
ANP Staff Writer

With one of the finest ball players in the state in their line-up and a senior ball club probably won't be enough for Coach George Thompson Jr. and the Inkster Vikings this season.

The reason? Thompson's charges compete in the Suburban Athletic Conference, one of the (if not the) toughest basketball leagues in the state.

"The SAC is loaded again," said Thompson who is noted for producing outstanding cagers. "We have an excellent ball club this year but so do Highland Park and Ecorse and Robichaud. Don't forget that Rouge is also in this league.

"So we're going to have to

"We have an excellent Ball Club ... but so does everyone else."

wait-and-see who gets the breaks."

Inkster doesn't open up the season until Tuesday when the Vikings take on Taylor Truman. Following their opener Inkster is scheduled to meet Warren Towers and Saginaw Buena Vista, the latter is ranked No. 1 in the Class B state ratings.

"We have a tough schedule and our players are looking forward to the challenge," Thompson says.

One of the reasons why coaches won't look past the Vikings this season is All-Stater Anthony White, a 6-4, 175-pound senior who scored at a 23.1 ppg clip a year ago.

"Anthony is much quicker. Much smarter and over-all much better than he was a year ago," said Coach Thompson. "And, without reservation, I can say he's also one of the best players in the state this year. He can do everything. He's just an exciting player to watch."

White will be teamed with the Lloyd brothers — Sheared, who is 6-6 and "is greatly improved" and Shawn, an offensive rebounding wiz who is 6-2. Also slated for the starting lineup is William Springer, a 5-8 deceptive guard who can produce the points as fast as anyone.

The Vikings also have available Jesse Harding, a 6-0, 190-pound senior who will have the assignment of guarding the opposition's toughest man. Jesse's brother, Barry, a 6-3½ cager, "can jump right out of the gym" and the Davises — Andre (6-3) and Ray — will also see plenty of action.

Leslie Cooper, a 6-3 forward, Troy Singleton, 5-10, and that's the look the Vikings will have this year.

And if only Highland Park didn't have all of the team intact that was ranked No. 1 throughout the campaign in 1983-84, the Vikings may have been in the SAC's driving seat.

But, unfortunately, the Parkers are back and Inkster will have to figure out a way to survive in the SAC where you have to be great just to be good.

Metro Parks spruce up for winter fun

Among the most popular winter playgrounds in southeastern Michigan are the Huron-Clinton Metroparks serving the citizens of Wayne, Macomb, Oakland, Livingston and Washtenaw counties. Facilities will open when winter weather arrives.

Because snow and ice conditions vary from day to day, persons are advised to contact the Metropark of their choice prior to winter sports participation. The parks, facilities and phone numbers are listed below.

Vehicle entry permits are required — annual, $7, senior citizens, $2, or daily, $2 — year around.

LOWER HURON METROPARK near Belleville has areas for cross-country skiing and ice skating. Three natural rink surfaces are provided at interconnected ponds, located in a ravine where skating is permitted until 10 p.m. daily, weather permitting. Lights and wood for rinkside fires are provided and near by are heated restrooms.

The park entrance is on Hannan Road, just one-quarter mile south of Huron River Drive via the Haggerty Road interchange along the I-94 Freeway between Detroit Metropolitan Airport and the Belleville exit. Park hours are daylight to 10 p.m.

For ice and snow conditions phone 1-800-552-6772 (toll-free) or 697-9181 (Belleville).

WILLOW METROPARK between New Boston and Flat Rock has sledding on moderate slopes, groomed cross-country ski trails and ski rental service.

Sledding is available primarily at the Chestnut Picnic Area, which features a special trail hill for winter use. Nearby are heated restrooms.

Cross-country ski rental service is available at the Ski Touring Center located at the bathhouse/swimming pool site, with complete rental equipment, food service, coin lockers and heated restrooms. Park hours are daylight to dusk.

For snow conditions contact the Park Office, care of Lower Huron Metropark, 1-800-552-6772 (toll-free) or 697-9181 (Belleville).

OAKWOOD METROPARK, near Flat Rock is primarily a nature oriented site, with a Nature Center, nature trails and winter bird feeding stations plus trails for cross-country skiing. Park hours are daylight to dusk.

For snow conditions contact the park office (c/o Lower Huron Metropark) 1-800-552-6772 or 697-9181 (Belleville).

HUDSON MILLS METROPARK, located 12½ miles northwest of Ann Arbor and near the Village of Dexter, has excellent terrain for cross-country skiing.

This is the primary winter attraction at the park and there are 5½ miles of groomed trails. The scenic qualities of the park make it a wonderful spot for this fast-growing sport.

The nature trail is open year-around for self-guided hikes. Hudson Mills Metropark is an excellent spot for winter photography, especially at the rapids near the North Territorial Road Bridge or at other scenic locations with the park.

Park hours are 8 a.m. to 8 p.m.

For information contact Hudson Mills Metropark, 8801 N. Territorial Road, Dexter, 48130. Phone 1-800-552-6772 (toll-free) or 426-8211 (Dexter).

KENSINGTON METROPARK near Milford, one of the most popular winter playgrounds in southeastern Michigan, has facilities for ice skating, tobogganing, sledding, cross-country skiing and ski rental service, ice fishing, nature hikes and phogography.

General skating and hockey rinks are located on Kent Lake.

Romulus is 'team to beat'

Oak Park captured the first Metro-West Conference basketball championship last year.

And the Parkers look tough again this year. But, what do the other coaches in the league think when it comes to winning the title this year ...

The consensus is: "You have to beat Romulus."

And the reason is: Terry Mills.

The always-tough Metro-West League has only four teams in it — Truman, Romulus and Oak Park and Taylor Center — but someone like Mills around," Sumenick concluded.

It does help, just ask Romulus coach Al Wilkerson.

After Friday night's opener, Huron will be on the road Tuesday at Milan and will open the Huron Conference phase of the season a week from Friday against Monroe Jefferson, in Monroe.

"We have a couple of tough ones right off the bat," said Sumenick. "It won't take long for us to know what this club is made of."

The other two returning players are senior George Gillespie (6-3) and junior Robert Jamula (6-3). Leever will play at center and forward.

The rest of the TC, the starters included, according to Leever, are pretty much equal, meaning the Rams should have depth. And because of their quickness, they'll try to stay with most people with a man-to-man defense.

"But we're not afraid to use a zone," Leever said. "We'll also have to be able to put pressure on the ball to be successful."

But with Mills being groomed as the top junior in the country, well ...

MedCity provides family health care

A unique approach to health care has been introduced in Westland.

MedCity Medical and Dental Clinic, which opened last week at 8010 Wayne Road, offers family medical, dental and vision care with the emphasis on preventive medicine.

Those accustomed to astronomical medical costs and long waits in a crowded waiting room will be in for a surprise at MedCity.

A complete physical examination of all major body systems includes an initial consultation with an eye doctor and dentist and an extensive series of 14 lab tests plus a urinalysis. The fee is $45.

"Doctors are beginning to realize that there's more competition for the patient today," noted MedCity Manager Morris Goldberg of the Walton Management Co. "The cost of medical care is growing by leaps and bounds. We are catering to the patient in every way possible."

"Patients here see the physician within 15 minutes," he explained. "We serve coffee, juice and lemonade to help make everyone feel at home."

MedCity, located in the Oak Plaza Shopping Center, features 6,000 square feet of office space and nearly $100,000 in the latest diagnostic testing equipment. Included on staff are physicians (two M.D.s and one D.O.), dentists, ophthalmologists and pharmacists.

The facility provides both ongoing and routine medical and dental care as well as immediate care for sudden illnesses and minor emergencies. Total eye care, including treatment of eye disorders and diseases, also is available along with a large selection of frames.

Business hours certainly are not typical. The clinic is open weekdays from 9 a.m. to 8 p.m. and from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. weekends. No appointment is necessary in most cases. If a patient cannot make it to the clinic during these hours, they may call and set up another time for treatment.

House calls are provided for the homebound or temporary homebound patient.

MedCity accepts Blue Cross/Blue Shield, Medicare, Medicaid and all types of commercial insurance. Visa and Mastercard are acceptable for payment.

"The physicians on staff have their own private practice," Goldberg explained. "These people are dedicated to preventive medicine and dentistry. Our aim is to find and treat potential or hidden medical or dental problems before they require extensive treatment."

For further information on MedCity and its family care facilities, call the clinic at 522-2229.

Wrapping it up

Package service opens in Canton

Larson's Express Package Service (p.s.), the first business of its kind in Wayne County, has opened its doors in Canton Township.

Located at 7365 Lilley in the Pilgrims Village Center, the new service offers residents an option for shipping small packages across the state or across the country.

Through E.P.S., a shipper's agent, packages are accepted from the public and shipped via commercial carriers, assuring customers the lowest cost consistent with the delivery schedule the customer needs, owner Renie Larson explained. EPS also offers a selection of packaging materials for sale, or will package items for customers at a minimal charge.

"The concept of a convenience center for small package shipments originated on the west coast several years ago, but only recently came to the Detroit area," Larson added. "Several similar operations have opened in Macomb, Oakland and Washtenaw counties. E.P.S. is the first to open in Wayne County."

E.P.S. business hours are 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. Monday through Friday and 9 a.m. to noon on Saturday.

Winter and spring fashions provided by J.C. Penney will be on display at the My Little Angel Fashion Show sponsored by Brownie Troop 708 of Westland, scheduled at 7 p.m. Friday in the Madison Elementary School gym, 1075 S. Carlson in Westland.

The Calcium Connection: Getting enough can prevent many major health problems

Getting enough calcium in our diets may help prevent some major health problems in our nation, according to medical researchers who spoke at a nutrition symposium in Lansing recently.

The more than 300 health professionals, including physicians, dietitians, home economists, dentists, dental hygienists and nurses, attending this "Calcium Connection" conference, sponsored by the Dairy Council of Michigan learned that a low intake of calcium may contribute to osteoporosis (porous bones) and high blood pressure (hypertension).

All adults lose bone as they grow older, beginning at about 30 to 40 years of age, explained Robert R. Recker, M.D., director of the Metabolic Unit at Creighton University in Omaha, Nebraska. But when bone loss is excessive to the point that bone fractures occur in places such as the spine and forearm as a result of everyday common stresses, the diagnosis is osteoporosis.

Osteoporosis affects as many as 15 to 20 million persons in the United States. Often called the silent disease, it usually goes unnoticed until a fracture occurs. The National Institutes of Health estimates that about 1.3 million fractures due to osteoporosis occur every year in persons 45 years of age and ated bone loss. This is one reason why osteoporosis is eight times more common in women than in men.

Among the other factors increasing one's risk of osteoporosis are cigarette smoking, an excess intake of caffeine, alcohol, or protein, a family history of the disease, small bones and lack of physical exercise, explained Recker.

These include heredity, obesity, smoking, lack of exercise, emotional stress and diet.

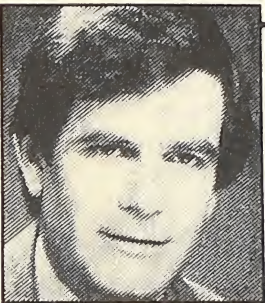

A high intake of sodium may increase blood pressure in some individuals who are "sodium sensitive." But for the more than half of patients with hypertension who are not "sodium sensitive," clearly most adults will prevent hypertension. For example, a reduction in intake of foods in the milk group will decrease calcium and potassium — nutrients which have been demonstrated to have a positive effect on blood pressure.

Most nutritionists advise that older.

Osteoporosis is a tremendous problem, not only in terms of the number of people affected, but also cost-wise. In the United States, the cost of osteoporosis is estimated at $3.8 billion a year.

A prolonged low intake of calcium is recognized as a key factor contributing to osteoporosis, emphasized Recker. Unfortunately, many Americans fail to consume a sufficient amount of calcium each day.

In addition to calcium, many other factors determine whether or not an individual will develop osteoporosis, claimed Recker. The hormonal changes in women occurring at menopause result in acceler-

The diagnosis of osteoporosis currently involves documentation of reduced bone density or mass. Jerry Nosanchuk, D.O., Founder and director of the Michigan Center for Diagnosis and Treatment of Osteoporosis in Livonia, described a new machine, a bone densitometer, to screen individuals at risk of developing osteoporosis. According to Nosanchuk, this technique is highly accurate, takes only seven minutes of the patient's time and causes little or no discomfort.

In terms of treatment, estrogen replacement in postmenopausal women and a calcium intake of 1000-1500 mg per day have been recommended, reported Recker. Estrogen therapy, however, is not without risk.

One of the best ways to protect against or treat osteoporosis is to increase your intake of calcium-rich foods. Milk and other dairy foods are the major dietary sources of calcium, supplying more than 70 percent of the available calcium in the U.S. diet. Foods in the other food groups — the meat group, the fruit-vegetable group, and the grain group — also supply calcium, although in smaller amounts.

Is it difficult to get enough calcium in your daily diet? Participants at the "Calcium Connection" conference would say no, considering that they consumed a lunch supplying more than 1000 mg calcium. The menu consisted of spinach salad with sweet and sour dressing, cheese quiche with bacon, broccoli spears, roll and butter, chocolate almond ice cream and milk.

Another disorder linked to low calcium intake is hypertension or high blood pressure, reported David A. McCarron, M.D., chief of the Hypertension Program at the Oregon Health Sciences University in Portland, Oregon. Hypertension, which is a major risk factor for heart disease, affects 60 million Americans.

While sodium has dominated the interest of persons concerned with hypertension, several lines of evidence suggest that calcium has a positive effect on blood pressure.

Hypertension is a heterogeneous disorder which is probably not caused by a single factor, McCarron said. While the exact cause of hypertension is unknown, a variety of risk factors have been identified.

other factors are important. One of these appears to be a low calcium intake.

McCarron cautioned that it is not yet known whether calcium intake in excess of the Recommended Dietary Allowance (RDA) of 800 mg per day for the general healthy population, whether or not they are concerned about osteoporosis or hypertension, consume a nutritionally balanced diet made up of a wide variety of foods from the basic food groups in amounts appropriate for body weight.

Calcium-rich recipes

Here are three calcium-rich recipes recommended by the Dairy Council of Michigan:

- Crustless Vegetable Quiche
- 1-10 ounce pkg. frozen chopped spinach
1 cup chopped lettuce
¼ cup snipped parsley
¾ cup shredded Swiss Cheese
dash salt
¾ cup thinly sliced green onion
3 eggs
½ cup plain yogurt
¼ cup skim milk
½ tsp. pepper
dash Worcestershire sauce
- Cook spinach and onion, covered, with just the water that clings to spinach till steam forms. Reduce heat and cook 3 to 5 minutes, turning spinach frequently. Drain. Stir in lettuce and parsley. With electric mixer, beat together eggs, yogurt, cheese, milk, pepper, salt, and Worcestershire till smooth. Stir in spinach mixture. Turn into a greased 9 inch pie plate. Bake, uncovered, in 375 degree oven for 25 to 30 minutes or until knife inserted just off-center comes out clean. Let stand 10 minutes before serving. Makes 8 servings.
- Each serving contains 224 mg of calcium, about 28% of RDA
Calories per serving: 113
- SWISS MEAT LOAF
- 2 lbs. ground beef
2 beaten eggs
6 ounces shredded Swiss cheese
½ cup diced onions
½ cup chopped green pepper
1-½ tsp. salt
1 tsp. celery salt
½ tsp. each, pepper paprika
2-½ cups dry bread crumbs
2-½ cups milk
- Cook spinach and onion, covered, with just the water that clings to spinach till steam forms. Reduce heat and cook 3 to 5 minutes, turning spinach frequently. Drain. Stir in lettuce and parsley. With electric mixer, beat together eggs, yogurt, cheese, milk, pepper, salt, and Worcestershire till smooth. Stir in spinach mixture. Turn into a greased 9 inch pie plate. Bake, uncovered, in 375 degree oven for 25 to 30 minutes or until knife inserted just off-center comes out clean. Let stand 10 minutes before serving. Makes 8 servings.
- Each serving contains 224 mg of calcium, about 28% of RDA
Calories per serving: 113

- Mix all ingredients and pack into a 9 x 13 pan. You may prefer to shape the mixture into two loaves crosswise in the pan. Mixture will be very moist. Bake at 350 degrees for 1-½ hours. Makes 8-10 servings.
- In 8 servings, each serving contains 269 mg of calcium, about 34% of the RDA.
Calories per serving: 406
- INSIDE-OUT PIZZA
- 12 ounces shredded mozzarella cheese
½ cup shredded sharp Cheddar Cheese
½ cup cottage cheese
1 deep dish pizza crust mix, mix as directed
Pizza sauce, heated
- Lightly butter a 9-10 inch pie pan. Divide the crust into two pieces. On a floured surface, (waxed paper makes the crust easy to lift) roll one piece of dough to fit into the pie pan. Mix the three cheeses together and mound into the crust. Roll the second crust and place over the cheese mixture, crimping the edges to seal. DO NOT put slashes in the top crust, and try not to tear it. Cover pan lightly with aluminum foil and bake at 350 degrees for 20 minutes. Remove foil and bake for another 20 minutes. To serve, cut into slices and top with heated pizza sauce. Makes 6 servings.
- Each serving without pizza sauce contains 422 mg of calcium, about 52 percent of the RDA.

It's a girl!

It's a girl, according to Bill and Cathy Sovinski of Romulus, who have welcomed home their third child — and second daughter — Kaitlin Daniello.

The infant made her "debut" at 10:36 a.m. Nov. 17 at Providence Hospital in Southfield, tipping the scale at 7 pounds, 11 ounces, and measuring 20½ inches in length.

Kaitlin, or Katie as she will be called by her family, is the newest sister of Marjorie, 5, and Billy, 2½.

Celebrating the birth are grandparents Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Merritt of Garden City and Mr. and Mrs. William Sovinski Sr. of Garden City. Great-grandparents include Mr. and Mrs. Robert Proufoot of Westland, the great-grandmother is Mrs. Margaret Schaffer of Morgantown, West Virginia.

Diet Pill Sweeping U.S. New Grapefruit 'Super Pill' Gives Fast Weight Loss

No Dieting - Eat All You Want Pill Does All the Work

BEVERLY HILLS, CA. (Special)—An amazing new "super" grapefruit pill has recently been developed and perfected that reportedly "guarantees" that you will easily lose at least 10 pounds in 10 days. Best of all, it allows you to "eat as much as you want of your favorite foods and still lose a pound a day or more starting from the very first day until you achieve the ideal weight and figure you desire."

This "super" grapefruit pill is a dramatically improved version of the world famous grapefruit diet. It is far more effective than the original and eliminates "the mess, fuss, and high cost of eating half a fresh grapefruit at every meal."

"Pill Does All the Work"

According to the manufacturer, "the pill itself does all the work while you quickly lose weight with NO starvation "diet menus" to follow, NO calorie counting, NO exercise, and NO hunger pangs." It is 100% safe. You simply take the pill with a glass of water before each meal and the amazing combination of powerful ingredients are so effective they take over and you start losing weight immediately.

Pill Has ALL Daily Vitamins

The powerful and unique combination of ingredients are what make this a "super-pill". It contains highly potent grapefruit concentrate and a diuretic to help eliminate bloat and puffiness. No need to take any vitamins to maintain your good health and energy. The pill is fortified with ALL (100%) of the U.S. Government daily vitamin requirements.

Contains Japanese 'Glucomannan'

Each pill is already an amazingly effective amount of "glucomannan", the remarkable natural dietary fiber discovery from Japan (used successfully for over 1500 years) that expands in your stomach and gives you a full and satisfied feeling all day long.

The super-pill is already sweeping the country with glowing reports of easy and fast weight loss from formerly overweight people in all walks of life who are now slim, trim, and attractive again.

Mrs. William Foster Jr.

Carpenter--Foster nuptial vows exchanged

Two hundred guests were in attendance for the late afternoon nuptial of Sandra J. Carpenter of Fort Worth, Texas, and William E. Foster Jr., also of Fort Worth.

The Oct. 6 nuptial ceremony, held at the First Baptist Church of Wayne, was officiated by the Rev. Robert Larsen of California, an uncle of the bride, and Rev. Emery Gaskins of Fort Worth, a friend of the groom.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward L. Carpenter of Westland. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William E. Foster of Spartanburg, South Carolina.

An arrangment of white silk flowers and candelabras and candles, accented with white bows and streamers along the aisle, decorated the church for the ceremony.

The music was by pianist Joyce Preston. The vocalists were J. Kim Campbell and Maynard E. Allen.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, chose a Priscilla of Boston original wedding gown of white satin for the ceremony. The gown was accented with pearls and a full cathedral train.

A satin headpiece, trimmed with pearls, held her cathedral-length and blusher veils in place.

She carried a cascade bouquet of white philanopis orchids and English ivy.

The bride asked her sister, Ellen S. Balwinski of Pontiac, to serve as her honor attendant. Her gown, also a Priscilla of Boston original, was ankle length in a coral shade of moire taffeta. It swept into a short train in the back. Her coral tiara headpiece held her short coral veil in place, and her cascade-style bouquet was of coral silk flowers with blue accents.

The bridesmaids were Mrs. J. Kim Campbell of Fort Worth, Texas, Frances H. Foster of Spartanburg, South Carolina, Cindy L. Haskins of Fort Worth and Colleen Egan of Westland.

Their Priscilla of Boston gowns were styled like the honor attendant's in carol moire taffeta. They carried cascade bouquets of coral-colored flowers with blue accents.

The groom asked his brother, John D. Foster of South Hampton, Massachusetts, to serve as best man.

The ushers were Maynard Allen of Massachusetts, Hubert Blankenship of Fort Worth Texas, Timothy Williams of Fort Lauderdale, Florida and Ralph Iannozedni of Atlanta, Georgia.

Mrs. Carpenter chose a floor-length silver taffeta gown with a fitted brocade bodice for her daughter's wedding. The groom's mother wore an off-white floor-length gown of chiffon over silk.

A reception for the newlyweds and their guests was held in the church's Fellowship Hall, which was decorated in white with table centerpieces of eucalyptus, silk coral-colored flowers and candles.

The rehearsal dinner was held at the Hilton Inn and was hosted by the bride's parents and friends of the couple.

The newlyweds honeymooned in Canada before moving to Fort Worth, where they are now living.

The new Mrs. Foster is a 1979 graduate of Wayne Memorial High School. She attended Taylor University and is attending Texas Women's University. She currently is employed by the Texas Department of Health.

Her husband is a 1975 graduate of Spartanburg High School and Wake Forest University in South Carolina. He presently is attending South Western Baptist Theological Seminary.

'Christmas Carol' debuts Friday

"A Christmas Carol," based on Charles Dickens' immortal classic, opens Friday at Wayne State University's Bonstelle Theatre. Performances are at 8 p.m. Fridays and Saturdays, December 7-8 and 14-15, with matinees at 2 p.m. Saturdays and Sundays, December 8-9 and 15-16.

The story of Ebenezer Scrooge, Bob Cratchit and Tiny Tim has been adapted for the stage by Wayne State's Robert Emmett McGill, who also directs the production. The new adaptation includes music by Richard Berent, plus traditional Christmas carols.

Closely following Dickens' tale, the play takes place on Christmas Eve, when the miserly Scrooge is visited by four spirits — Scrooge's late partner, Jacob Marley, and the spirits of Christmas Past, Present, and Future. The visits move the cold-hearted Scrooge to exchange his

"Bah, Humbug!" attitude for one of joy and human kindness.

Leading the cast of colorful characters are Chris Hietikko, as Host; Fred Diehl, Scrogge; Robert Mayer, Bob Cratchit; Matt Servitto, Scrooge's nephew Fred; Jeffrey Van Conant, Spirit of Christmas Present, and Dinah Lynch, spirit of Christmas Past.

Tickets at $4.50 are available at the Wayne State University Theatre box office, Cass and Hancock, (telephone 577-2960). Reduced rates are available for students, senior citizens and groups.

Holt--Nielsen exchange wedding vows

St. Paul's Lutheran Church of New Boston was decorated with candles on the altar and at the pews, floral arrangements and a unity candle for the early afternoon wedding of Laurie Holt of

Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Nielsen

Taylor and Bernard Nielsen of Romulus.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clinnon Holt of Romulus and the groom is the son of Bernard Nielsen of South Rockwood and Beverly Nielsen of New Boston.

More than 150 guests were in attendance for the late summer ceremony, officiated by the Rev. Carl F. Trosien.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, chose a floor-length satin gown, with scalloped train, for the double-ring ceremony. Floral lace, accented with pearls, edged the gown and complemented the bodice, which had a scalloped neckline. The puffed satin sleeves narrowed below the elbow and ended in fingertip lace. Floral motifs, accented with pearls, were scattered on the skirt.

She wore a three-tiered rolled tip veil with floral lace edging and white floral motifs on the center tier, with a band of lace, pearls and sequins trimming it. A princess crown point held the veil in place.

She carried a crescent-shaped bouquet of large and small carnations, sweetheart roses, baby's breath and fern for the ceremony.

The bride asked a friend, Sheri Arrington of Dearborn Heights, to serve as her maid of honor. She wore an off-the-shoulder ruffled gown in light pink, accented with a wide maroon belt. Her bouquet as of silk flowers in pink and maroon shades.

Serving as bridesmaids were Jannie Nichols of Detroit, friend of the bride, Gaye McGaven of Taylor, friend of the bride, Lisa Nielsen of Rockwood, sister of the groom, and Lisa Holt, junior bridesmaid, of Romulus, sister of the bride.

The flowergirl was Michelle Tank, 4, the daughter of Janet Tank and cousin of the bride. She was dressed in a ruffled pink floor-length gown and wore a floral headband with ribbon streamers. She carried rose petals, which she dropped along the aisle during the ceremony.

Ringbearer for the service was Jeremy Crill, a cousin of the bride and the son of the late Mrs. Daniel Crill of Beaverton. He carried a heart-shaped satin pillow with lace edging.

The groom asked Dave Killan of Rockwood, his cousin, to perform the duties of best man. The ushers were Chris Palmer of Taylor, a friend of the groom, Perry Wilson of Taylor, brother of the groom. Tim Holt of Romulus, brother of the bride, and Kelly Nielsen of Newport, cousin of the groom.

Mrs. Nielsen chose a blue floor-length gown with matching jacket for her son's wedding. Her corsage was of baby carnations, baby's breath and dark pink rosebuds, with a blue bow.

Mrs. Holt wore a floor-length rose-colored gown with matching jacket, and her corsage was of baby carnations, baby's breath and dark pink rosebuds with a blue bow.

A reception for the newlyweds and their guests was held at Christ the King Hall in Taylor.

The newlyweds honeymooned at a cottage in Marian City and in Traverse City, before moving into their new home in Taylor. The new Mrs. Nielsen is a 1981 graduate of Romulus Senior High School and currently is employed at the Park Nursing Center in Taylor.

Her husband is 1980 Romulus High graduate and employed as a carpenter by Executive Construction.

CANCELLATIONS AND CORRECTIONS

Read your ad carefully the first time it appears, and report any errors before the next edition. This will be the only proof you will receive. Errors should be reported immediately, as Associated Newspapers, Inc. can be responsible for the first incorrect insertion only. NO CASH REFUNDS WILL BE MADE.

PUBLICATION POLICY

The publisher reserves the right to edit or reject and properly classify advertising submitted for publication. Publisher shall not be held liable for typographical errors except to the extent of the cost of first insertion and then only for that portion of ad that may have been rendered valueless by such error. Advertisers are advised to check their ads immediately after it appears in the paper and report at once any error found. Claims for error adjustment must be made immediately after ad is published.

HOW TO WRITE A GOOD CLASSIFIED AD

- IT'S ALWAYS BEST to start your advertisement with the name of the item or service you have to offer. If you have an apartment or room for rent or property for sale, it's better to start your advertisement with the location.
- BE CLEAR. Readers react more quickly and favorably when given complete or definite information. One of the most important considerations of any advertisement is to include the price.
- MAKE IT EASY for the reader to reach you. ALWAYS insert your telephone number or your name and address if you do not have regular hours, state a preferred time to have prospects contact you.
- PLACE YOURSELF in the reader's position and ask yourself what you would like to know (about your offer). The answer you give will make a good classified ad.
- CLASSIFIED READERS are already interested in buying used or new merchandise. These people have the money and are in the market to buy. Give them every advantage you can with good ad copy.
- CLASSIFIED ADS THAT FAIL to do so through a lack of readability, but because they are often quickly worded and do not contain enough information to prompt action.

From Sugarplums to lambs wool...

There are 12 months of the year, 12 Days of Christmas and 12 Apostles. It seems fitting, therefore, that a Christmas quiz—how much do you know about Yule lore and traditions—boast 12 probing questions to test your mettle.

1. What country is credited with having the first Christmas tree, and who introduced the Christmas tree to England? And, while were're on the subject of trees, what American president was the first to have a Christmas tree in the White House?

2. Why is December 26th called "Boxing Day" in England?

How much do you really know about those special Christmas traditions? Try this quiz and test your holiday smarts!

3. Who was the original Saint Nicholas?

4. At whom did the Spirit of Christmas Past clank its rusted claims in warning? What effect did this have?

5. Who were The Three Magi and what gifts are they traditionally credited with having brought the Christ child?

6. What American illustrator first located Santa Claus' headquarters at the North Pole?

7. In connection with Christmas celebrations, what is lamb's wool?

8. What were the earliest Christmas tree ornaments?

9. Where is Grandfather Frost an important figure in winter holiday celebrations?

10. What are "sugarplums?"

11. What is the derivation of the abbreviation "Xmas" for "Christmas?"

12. Can you name all eight of Santa's reindeer in "A Visit from Saint Nicholas," the immortal Christmas poem which begins, 'Twas the night before Christmas...?"

How much holiday lore do you know?

1. It is generally acknowledged that the Christmas tree originated in Germany, and one lovely legend attributes the idea of decorating an evergreen to Martin Luther, who, gazing upon the starlit evening sky through a curtain of tree branches, admired the scene's beauty so greatly that he decided to recreate it in his home, where he adorned a tree with a multitude of flickering candles.

It was the mid-19th century before the idea of Christmas tree was popularized in England, thanks to Prince Albert, Queen Victoria's German consort, who decorated a tree in 1844.

Only a few years later, the idea crossed the Atlantic, but it was not till 1856 that an American president, Franklin Pierce, first set up a Christmas tree in the White House, beginning a tradition which continues to the present day.

2. Boxing Day, which is significant enough to be a Bank Holiday in the British Isles, has nothing to do with professional contact sports. Rather, it is the day when, by custom, the alms boxes, which have been filled during the weeks preceding Christmas, are opened and their contents distributed to the needy.

3. St. Nicholas, Santa Claus' prototype, was not originally a figure of fun and jollity, but a Bishop from Asia Minor, an historical personage who dates from the third century AD, and to whom, after his death, various good deeds, some miraculous, were ascribed.

The most famous of the tales of his acts recounts how St. Nicholas bestowed dowries on three sisters who were destined, because of their father's poverty, to a life of privation.

On three successive nights, St. Nicholas secretly tossed a bag of gold down the chimney of the girls' home, providing them with the means that otherwise they would have lacked to wed.

St. Nicholas Day, December 6th, is celebrated particularly in the Netherlands, and it was the Dutch who brought him to the New World, when they settled New Amsterdam (New York, today).

It was Washington Irving, a 19th century writer from New York who was steeped in the Dutch legends of the area in which he had grown up, who brought St. Nick to life on the written page, as a giver of gifts and figure of merriment.

4. Ebenezer Scrooge, in Charles Dickens' fable, A Christmas Carol, is visited by the Spirit of Christmas Past who sternly warns him of the consequences of the miserly life he has led.

He is reformed, thanks not only to the efforts of the Spirit of Christmas

Past, but to those of the ghost of his dead partner, Jacob Marley, and to the offices of Tiny Tim, the crippled young son of Scrooge's office clerk Bob Cratchit.

5. The Three Magi, the wise men who journeyed to Bethlehem guided by the light of a single star, are not named in the New Testament, nor are they identified as kings, nor is their number limited to three.

Art and literature, however, have had a profound effect on their identification; thus Balthazar, Melchior and Gaspar are known around the world today as the adoring kings who brought the valuable gifts of gold, frankincense and myrrh to the newly born Christ child in His manger.

6. Thomas Nast, whose drawing originally appeared in the popular American newspaper, Harper's Weekly, has done much to influence modern-day

A Gift With A Touch of Italy

Enrica Hensley comes from Italy to Belleville with love.

That love is translated into the dolls she creates; the dresses she makes and the store she operates on Main street in downtown Belleville in the Century 21 Building at 309 Main Street.

Enrica's little shoppe, "The Golden Needle", is a paradise for those who are hunting for gifts during Christmas Holidays. And the gift shopper will find a wide assortment of dolls, baby clothing and, "because I learned to sew from a very young time, I can sew just about anything," says Enrica who was born in northern Italy near the Swiss border.

Enrica specializes in infant clothing, wedding gowns but also imports a lot of her baby clothing from Italy where her sister-in-law provides the unique designs of Italy and Europe.

"Business is excellent," Enrica says with an accent that sounds like a Verdi opera. "It is good, I believe, because people like things that are made with a personal touch and not all machine made."

In 1963 when attending school in Germany, Enrica met and fell in love with Sam Hensley an American soldier, and they were married. The Hensleys came back to the United States in 1964.

"I love America," says Enrica, "It definitely is a land of much opportunity. And my little shoppe is proof of that. Everything is like a dream come true."

Everyone likes to look her best for the Holidays

Is there a man or woman who doesn't want to look his best for the Holidays?

Or for that matter, during the entire year?

Laura Bergum, owner-operator of "Laura's Lasting Impressions" offers the answer.

"People always want to look good. They want, if I may say, leave a 'lasting impression' on those they come in contact with in everyday life. And clothes, though they are very important to the over-all appearance, is secondary to personal grooming such as the hair, the face and the hands.

"For women, make-up and the hair provide clues to the personality. Someone who takes time and care of his or her hair, their face and hands is someone who usually commands attention no matter where they are."

Laura's Lasting Impressions, with its handful of hair experts and make-up artists would like to help you create a look that is the real you.

Located at 424 Main Street in the heart of downtown Belleville and Van Buren, Laura's provides experts in the art of precision hair-cutting, make-up application and has personnel on hand for manicures, ear-piercing and eyebrow waxing.

Opened Monday and Saturday from 9 a.m. until 5 p.m., and until 8 p.m. on Thursday and Friday, Laura's serves both men and women — the entire family. (There is also a senior citizen discount rate Monday and Tuesday.

Ms. Bergum, who has more than a decade of haircutting and make-up applying experience, believes that "looking your best is not a costly proposition. In fact, it pays to look good because you'll feel great about yourself and will usually generate that feeling to those you come in contact with."

Laura's definitely will leave a "lasting impression on you, too."

Telephone 697-1940 for an appointment today, and see for yourself.

A perfect gift for the Holidays

What a better gift for Christmas than a fruit basket made to order by Jane and Ron Vesche of Belleville?

"We believe that the fruit basket is a special kind of gift for someone very special," said Jane Vesche, owner of the business located at 301 Davis Street. "There's a personal touch to it and every gift basket conveys a special message from the sender to the receiver."

The message is one of caring and appreciation.

The Vesches have a showroom filled with special items a patron may choose and select from or they may also telephone what they want in the basket, "and we will get it for them if we don't have it on stock."

The wide-variety of selections available for the gift basket includes cheeses, crackers, nuts, candy, jellies, jam, pate, ham, salami, imported chocolates, Danish butter cookies, sparkling grape juice, gourmet mustard, tea and a wide assortment of wines.

"And all of the baskets are professionally shrink-wrapped for beauty," Mrs. Vesche says, "and there is a reusable wicker basket."

Mrs. Vesche points out that she entered the business "because it is a very creative profession" and "there appears to be a demand for something other than the traditional gifts."

"We take care of everything, right down to the personal enclosed card," she continued. "And we deliver twice daily in the Metro area and ship nation-wide for a nominal fee."

Born and raised in the Belleville-Van Buren area, Mrs. Vesche attended the local school system. The Vesches have one daughter.

You'll find the Fruit Basket showroom across from Burhop's Collision and you can reach them by telephoning 313-697-7400.

Christmas Trees, wreaths... Memories of yuletide

Snow softly falling, blanketing earth.

Glowing ambers in the fireplace. Christmas carols throughout the house.

And standing majestically before the window, showing off its decorations is the Christmas Tree.

Memories of Christmas Past.

The Leonards — Mike and Brenda — want you to have a memorable Christmas Present, and they've converted their A & W Root Berr Drive-In at 148 West Columbia into a shoppe filled with Christmas wreaths and trees.

"We've decorated the building and we have a wide assortment of trees for sale," says Brenda Leonard. "This is the first year we have offered Christmas Trees and a wide assortment of wreaths for sale."

"In fact, we will decorate the wreath for you if the customer wishes," she adds. The custom-ordered wreaths are fresh arrangements."

Winner of the City of Belleville Beautification Committee Award for their efforts to upgrade the building and property, the Leonards purchased the property a year ago and "are very happy they did."

"We love it here," says Brenda, "and the people are just wonderful."

The Leonards say that customers should expect paying between $15 to $27 per tree this season. The wreaths and table arrangements are also priced reasonably.

The Leonards are open from 10 a.m. until 9 p.m. and can be reached at 699-1800 image of Santa, including locating his home in the snowy reaches of the North Pole.

Nast, whose drawings began to appear in the early 1860s, made an effort to place Santa in a contemporary setting, visiting the Union soldiers, for instance, in their army camp during the American Civil War.

7. The Christmas season is traditionally associated with hot, alcohol-laced punches, often served to carolers after they have finished a performance. In England, these punches were known collectively as "wassail," a word which comes from the Anglo-Saxon phrase for "be well."

Lamb's Wool, nicknamed that because of the pieces of toast which garnish it and bear a striking resemblance to fleece, was a kind of wassail, which included also more customary ingredients — ale, apples, eggs, sugar and such spices as cinnamon, nutmeg and cloves.

8. Generally, early Christmas tree ornaments included lit candles, cookies cut in unusual shapes and festively decorated, gold foil patterns, sweetmeats and fragrant red apples.

9. In the Soviet Union, where the observance of religious holidays as such is not encouraged, Grandfather Frost has replaced Father Christmas as the central figure of the winter holiday season, bringing gifts to commemorate New Year's Day, a secular occasion.

10. The "visions of sugarplums" dancing in the heads of the children dreaming in "A Visit from St. Nicholas" were almost certainly stimulating the dreamers' taste buds as well. Sugarplums, often crystallized fruits (not only plums), were gaily wrapped in silver foil. Though they originated earlier, they were popularized in Victorian England.

11. The "X" in "Xmas" is the Greek symbol for the letter "Chi," the initial letter in Greek of Christ's name. Anglicized, "Xmas" is Chmas," — thus easily seen as simply an abbreviation which gained currency at least eight centuries ago.

12. No, Rudolph was not among them! In Clement Moore's famous poem, Santa names his eight reindeer as he urges them along in the following immortal lines, "Now Dasher! now Dancer! now Prancer! now Vixen! On, Comet! on Cupid! on, Donner and Blitzen!"

THE ASSOCIATED NEWSPAPERS

Little Jack Horner

Little Jack Horner, surrounded by a group of canine and feline friends, is about to dig into his Christmas pie — another name for mince pie which has been a traditional accompaniment to Christmas dinner since Medieval times. The drawing was executed by Thomas Nast, the renowned 19th century illustrator for the Harper's Weekly journal. Nast's Christmas illustrations were recently issued in a paperbound volume by Dover Publications.
